

Long Entry
Post-its

pg 248

I think it was very brave and strong for Puck to run for safety even if his legs, paws, back, and ears are sore
because he was struck by lightning

to take no for an answer in the story, one of the parts was when he tried to help Calico and Sabine get away from Gar Face. I think he likes to protect others is because they are all very good friends or because he doesn't want anything happen to other animals and end up like he did. Chained to a pole on the street. When he got struck by the lightning, I thought he was going to stay here for the night and not do anything about his scars. He ran for shelter, knowing no bones were broken nor was the scar deep. Only a little sore.
That is one brave dog! That is Puck!
