

Reading Residue Insurgent

Something that stuck with me throughout Insurgent, was the fact that Tris wouldn't tell Tobias about shooting Will. She can jump in front of a gun barrel, but can't tell her boyfriend about shooting someone? I understand Will was Christina's boyfriend and one of her best friends, but can't she muster up the courage to tell her boyfriend about it. When Tris finally admitted she shot Will, Christina was angry, because she kept it from her. Tobias was upset, she didn't trust him, is what he thought. Tris is very brave and loves Tobias. I realize now that she couldn't tell anyone, because she thought would hate her.
